DR. GILLISPIE SPEAKS ON PRESBYTERIAN CAMPAIGN

"Presbyterians must not only take heroic measures to save the church in Kentucky. For two or three years," as well," said Dr. R. T. Gillispie, State Chairman of the Joint Commission of the Presbyterian Church, North and South, when interviewed relative to the State-wide movement now on for Christian Education in the interest of the institutions in Kentucky. For two or three years," Dr. Gillispie continued, "the leaders of the church and our schools, both laymen and clergy, have had weighing upon their hearts the urgency of presenting facts and the true state of affairs to their constituency."

Dr. Gillispie is a man of forceful character, a born leader, radiating confidence, calmness and deliberateness. As he talked his eyes beamed with a vision of a practical future that as he expressed it, "is the hope not only of the leaders of the church, but every Presbyterian in Kentucky."

"Referring to Roger Babson, to whom the business interests and captains of industry look for their guidance in statistics, he continued, "Babson says the need of the hour is not more factories, or material, or railroads, or more steamships or more armies or more navies, but rather more education based on the plain teachings of Jesus. The prosperity of our country depends upon the motives and purposes of the people. These motives and purposes are directed in the right course only through religion. Legislation, bounties or force are of no avail in determining man's attitude towards life. Harmony at home and peace with the world will only be determined in the same way."

The warmth and enthusiasm backed with determination could be seen in the square jaw and grey eye of this leader of Presbyterian thought in this State which was akin to the masterful statesmanship of the late James J. Hill to whom he referred when he said, "The small Christian college is the hope of America, character is essential to statesmanship and these colleges are vital factors in the development of sterling character."

"No less an authority than President Harding," said Dr. Gillispie, "is responsible for these words: 'Along with this, there is the obligation to maintain and encourage the smaller colleges. It is the small college that democratizes the higher (Continued on Page 2)

UNION LEADERS TO MEET MONDAY

A call for an immediate meeting of the policy committee of 90 roads in Chicago, probably Monday, was sent out Wednesday by John Scott, secretary of the striking shop craft unions.

The telegraphic appeal was in code and was addressed to the regional general chairman of the organization in all parts of the country. It was expected that it would be several days before they could arrive in Chicago, and for that reason no general sessions were expected before next week.

The meeting was called, it was intimated, to consider plans for a settlement of the strike on separate roads representing about one-third of the country's mileage. It followed reports of conferences between B. M. Jewell, head of the strikers, and rail executives in the East.

The announcement was made by Mr. Scott in commenting on reports that B. M. Jewell, president of the shop crafts, and representatives of some 55,000 miles of roads were seeking separate agreement to end the shopmen's walkout.

American Federation of Labor chiefs led by President Samuel Gompers yesterday prepared to draft a plan of attack upon Attorney General Dougherty's injunction against the railroad shop crafts strikers. Following a series of secret conferences Wednesday night, it was announced at labor headquarters in the Ambassador Hotel, at Atlantic City, that it had been almost definitely decided to attempt through the courts to have the Daugherty act vacated.

Leaders expect, however, to have such a plan in shape to be submitted to the executive council of the American Federation of Labor when it convenes in formal session Saturday.

CHILDREN OF SLAIN WOMAN LIVE IN PARIS

When Luther F. Violet, of Cincinnati, shot and killed his wife, Mrs. Bertha Violet, aged thirty-nine, and shot himself in the left temple at their home in that city, Tuesday night, tragedy entered also into the lives of two Paris children, who are at the home of their grandmother, Mrs. L. F. Violet, on Sixteenth street, in this city.

The double tragedy took place at the Violet home shortly after ten o'clock Tuesday night. From statements made to the police by one of the children, Dorothy Violet, seven years old, who was in another room at the time, it was learned that the Violetes had been quarreling for about an hour. Jealousy on the part of Violet was alleged to have been the cause of the shooting. When police reached the residence in response to a telephone message they found the doors all locked. Forcing an entrance they found the body of Mrs. Violet on the floor, while a short distance away lay Violet, with an automatic revolver by his side.

The Violetes are the parents of four children, Dorothy and Barton, aged seven and five, who were at the family home, and Norman and Luther, aged nine and ten respectively, who have been making their home with their grandmother, in this city.

Violet was a traveling salesman and, according to his neighbors, had become very jealous of his wife. The neighbors told the police that Violet had no real cause for jealousy.

Violet has been in bad health for more than a year, and was thought to have been suffering from some delusion regarding the conduct of his wife, as a result of the condition of his mind. Neighbors of the Violet family stated that Violet had acted very strangely at times, and had told them on various occasions that he believed he had consumption, and that he would rather kill himself than have to linger with such a disease.

Mrs. Katherine Scheenlaub, joint resident of the house in which Violet lived, stated that the neighbors became so alarmed over Violet's attitude that she sent for his mother, who was then in Paris. Mrs. Violet went to Cincinnati, but returned to Paris in a short time, apparently convinced that her son was all right again. Two weeks ago Mrs. Violet became panic-stricken at something her husband had said, and came to Paris, where she remained until regaining her composure, when she returned to Cincinnati.

The funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Violet, victims of the double tragedy, will be held at the grave in the Frankfort Cemetery this afternoon at 4:15 o'clock, with services conducted by Rev. Arthur Fox, pastor of the Paris Baptist church.

CHILD SUPPOSED VICTIM OF POISON

Beatrice, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fount Tankersley, who reside on North Vine street, died suddenly Wednesday night from the effects of what was alleged to be strychnine poisoning. It was alleged that in some manner the child had secured strychnine tablets, which had been prescribed by the family physician for an older child, who is afflicted with heart trouble. The little child was playing in the yard at her home when she was stricken, and died within a few moments. The older child is in a critical condition, and was removed to the Massie Memorial Hospital.

The funeral of the dead child will be held this morning at eleven o'clock, with services conducted at the grave in the Paris Cemetery by Rev. Arthur Fox, pastor of the Paris Baptist church.

PREPARATIONS FOR PRESBYTERIAN EDUCATIONAL MOVEMENT PROGRESSING

Preparations for the intensive canvass in Paris among the Presbyterians for the educational movement are progressing rapidly, according to Mr. Peale Collier, Chairman of the Executive Committee. Emphasis is laid on the fact that this is the largest educational undertaking in the history of the Northern and Southern Presbyterian churches in Kentucky.

"To achieve success," said Mr. Owen L. Davis, chairman of the organization committee, "the movement calls for the co-operation of every Presbyterian man and woman in Kentucky. This is no time for little thinking." According to Mr. Davis the program includes the whole educational system of Kentucky as fostered by the Presbyterian church. He points out that other instructions in the State have accomplished as much or more than is now being undertaken by the Presbyterians. It is unthinkable that the Presbyterians alone are not equal to their share of the task of the religious problems of the world," he said.

"The Presbyterian colleges and educational institutions are suffering from a lack of resources to maintain their work," he pointed out. "Some of them are in dire need; some have been kept alive by the sacrifices of underpaid and overworked men and women. They need building equipment, additional teachers, and income producing endowment to continue their work."

"The number of vacant pulpits in the Presbyterian church is appalling. Figures obtained from the minutes of the General Assembly show the need for immediate action by our church or the condition will shortly become even more serious than it is now," according to Mr. Pike, who has charge of the Kentucky Presbyterian Educational movement in Paris.

"In the territory controlling the Union Theological Seminary there are 198 candidates for 564 vacant pulpits. In other words," he said, "about one candidate for three vacant pulpits. This territory includes Virginia, North Carolina, West Virginia and one half of Appalachia Synods.

"In the territory belonging to Columbia Seminary, that is, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Alabama, there are 111 candidates for the ministry to fill 516 vacant pulpits.

"The Presbyterian Theological Seminary of Kentucky takes in Kentucky, Missouri, and one-half of Appalachia Synods and records show that there are 51 candidates for the ministry in this territory for 211 pulpits and this does not include the vacant pulpits in the Northern Presbyterian church. In the territory naturally belonging to Austin Seminary, that is, Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, there are 63 candidates for the ministry as against 34 vacant pulpits. The Synods of Mississippi, Louisiana and Tennessee are what might be called unaffiliated and the figures for this territory show 327 vacant pulpits and 53 candidates to fill them. In Kentucky it takes 27 elders, 30 deacons and 828 church members to produce one candidate for the ministry in the Southern church. The ratio of candidates for the ministry to the number of churches is about one candidate to 6 vacant churches."

"This condition," stated Mr. Pike, "cannot continue very much longer. The church is calling urgently for more ministers."

On Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock there will be an Opening Dinner at the Presbyterian church for the workers in the Presbyterian movement of Christian education, at which time they will be addressed by Rev. S. W. Gill, State Director of the movement, on the proper method of organization and reasons will be given why the local campaign should be closed according to schedule. What is promised to be the largest gathering of Presbyterians ever held in Paris will take place Sunday evening at seven-thirty o'clock at the First church. This is known as the Presbyterian "Parley" and is called for the purpose of presenting the various phases of the Presbyterian movement for Christian education. The speaker of the evening will be Rev. Benj. Jay Bush, D. D., Vice-Chairman of the Joint Commission and Secretary of the Executive Committee. Dr. Bush is an authority on Christian education and it is certain that not only Presbyterians, but members of other denominations will attend these services, inasmuch as the campaign work has been followed closely by the citizens in general.

NEWS OF THE COURTS

In the County Court Judge Geo. Batterton assessed a fine of $100 and costs against Otha Leggett, of near Paris, and gave him a jail sentence of forty days, on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of two girls, Hattie Henson, eighteen, and Lucy Howard, sixteen. The evidence disclosed that Leggett induced the two girls to accompany him from Paris to Indianapolis in an auto, staying there at three different hotels until the girls were taken in charge by the Y. W. C. A., and their fathers notified. They were returned to their homes and Leggett was placed under arrest after he followed them to Paris. Leggett is said to have a wife, who is at the point of death with tuberculosis, and also two infant children.

Otha Leggett, who was arrested and given a hearing in Court on the charge of contributing to the delinquency of children and failing to provide support for his family, will appeal his case to the Bourbon Circuit Court. Leggett was found guilty of the first charge and was fined $100 and given a jail sentence of fifty days.

Joe Willis, a young white man, for whose arrest Sheriff M. Peale Collier has been carrying a warrant for several days, surrendered Wednesday and furnished bond for his appearance before County Judge George Batterton in the County Court, to-morrow morning, to answer to a charge of selling moonshine whisky.

In the County Court Thomas Holt was fined $15 and costs by Judge Batterton upon his plea of guilty to the charge of hunting doves without a license. The warrant was sworn to by Deputy Game Warden A. W. Bullock. This is the first case of the season under the game law violation acts.

Sheriff M. Peale Collier placed Will Nichols, colored, under arrest Wednesday night, on the Maysville pike, near Paris, for having in his possession a quart of moonshine liquor, from which the possessor had taken a drink, probably as a sample.

Judge Batterton appointed Julian Adair as administrator of the estate of Fannie C. Norton, who died some weeks ago in Millersburg. Mr. Adair accepted the trust and qualified by furnishing bond in the sum of $3,500, with Wm. D. McIntyre, of Millersburg, as surety.

SHOWERED WITH COAL

There have been showers of various sorts in Paris recently, but to be showered with coal does not fall to the lot of everyone. Such was the experience which befell Thomas Craven, guard at the pump house of the Louisville & Nashville, and J. C. Feeback, night engineer, at the same place. While a northbound freight train was crossing the station Monday night, someone threw a large lump of coal from a loaded coal car, the heavy missile crashing through a window just above where the men were sitting, showering them with particles of coal and splintered glass. By good luck both men escaped serious injury.

It could not be ascertained who threw the missile, as the train was getting under good headway at the time, and the night being dark all trace of the bomb-thrower was lost in the distance. Louisville & Nashville officials were notified, and are conducting an investigation, with a view to locating the cause of the trouble.

The fellow who watches his work, and not the clock, is bound to be successful.

Paris police by Mayor January, thirty-two autoists were cited to appear in the Police Court to answer charges of violation of the traffic ordinances. The majority were charged with failing to have red tail lights on their autos. Each violator was fined $1.00 and warned against a second offense. The police have been given strict orders to exercise special care in enforcing this part of the automobile ordinances.

EDITORIAL FLINGS

He who toots upon

Should be beaten—
Wicked brute!

If a girl will gladly row you
Where the water lilies grow,
Let me ask this question of you—
Is it fair to let her row?

Oh, say, old fellows, can you remember when the women in crossing the streets brazenly lifted their skirts half-way to the shoe tops? And just thing of what is happening now!

If we want to flood our lives with sunshine and love we must be real men and women, and to be real men and women there are other things, besides merely getting a living, that must be done.

Some nervous Paris people have been bothering their heads about whether there is an "a" or an "e" in the middle of the word "cantaloupe." Normal people merely wonder why so many cantaloupes are without flavor and fit only to be trodden under the foot of man.

It is said that dancing makes girls' feet large. It is also said that ice cream causes freckles. Doctors are of the opinion that hanging on the front gate induces rheumatism, and that sitting in the porch swing in a dark corner is conducive to lumbago. A few more opinions like these, and the girls won't have any more fun left for them.

Those Paris men who criticize bobbed hair are being hotly condemned by the Paris girls who bob their hair, and that, of course, is reasonable. Yet, what would the girls say to, and of, a young man bidding for their favor with hair down to his waist in two pigtails, or sweetly curled in the corkscrew style, or done neatly in a psyche knot?

We have indulged in our share of amusement at the foreign tourist who viewed the country from a Pullman window and then wrote a book about it—but how about the motorist who drives through a fine town like Paris, sees nothing but the filling stations, talks to nobody but the man with the gasoline hose, and returns home to laugh at the "hick town" he or she has "visited?"

DOGS GUARDED CHURCH MAN'S STILL

Growling bulldogs delayed prohibition agents when they sought to raid the residence of Ludwig Stinke, in Louisville. The dogs leaped at the front fence, barking and snarling when the agents appeared. Under the threat to shoot the dogs, Mrs. Stinke called them off. A copper still of twenty-five gallons capacity was found in a barn in the rear of the yard. With it were found 100 gallons of mash and one and a half pints of white whisky. "Please keep this case out of the newspapers," Mrs. Stinke is said to have pleaded. "For fifteen years I have been going to church regularly, and I would not want my friends to hear of the trouble." Stinke was cited to appear before the United States Commissioner.

education. Here, too, the student finds that intimate association with his instructors, which is impossible in the great universities. The essence of a great school is not in marble and mortar and architecture; nor yet in the multitude of the matriculants. The traditions of famous schools concern men, who have stamped their personalities, who have given their generous natures, who have colored the intellectual atmosphere about them. And men who are big and strong enough to do that are as likely to be found in the modest as in the impressive environment."

Dr. Gillispie made the astounding statement that all the denominational colleges in the South together, have less endowment than any one of the six colleges for women in Massachusetts. "Why is it?" asked Dr. Gillispie, "that schools and colleges are any more the business of the church in Kentucky than continuing houses and factories? Obviously, because the church is in the teaching business. Because it claims not only the right to teach, but claims the subordination of all other teaching to its teaching. Because it claims for itself the most important branch of knowledge—what is God, and what duty does God require of man? A teacher itself, a teacher which claims subordination of all other knowledge to its knowledge, it cannot remain indifferent to the rest of the educational process. If the church will cease appealing to the intellect of man and appeal only to his esthetic sensibilities, to his imitative instinct, to his love of mystery, to his emotions it may perhaps safely ignore the colleges and schools."

"There is small comfort in the fact that our Federal taxes average $270.00 a year per family; that $183.00 of it is on account of past wars, interest on war debts, pensions, vocational and health rehabilitation for soldiers and sailors; that $66.00 goes direct to expenditures on the army and navy and that only $16.00 of it goes for Government functions, salaries and public works, and that only $2.70 of it is spent on education, health and agriculture. The navy costs us more year by year than all of our churches of every name, sect and sort, in this past year by some fifty million dollars. The army costs us more than all our colleges, technical schools, universities, church and State by two hundred million dollars. A single first-class battleship costs more than the teachers' training schools throughout the whole United States from ten to fifteen million more. So far in the world's history culture and the curse of war have been one. The multitudes must begin to organize and face the facts in an intelligent way. Our colleges must lead the way, and above all our churches collapse. It costs something to have colleges, but it costs infinitely more not to have them."

"Of the sixty colleges in the United States having an endowment of a million or more, only nine are in the South, and one of these is for negroes, and three are denominational colleges. The Presbyterians have NONE."

"If we want adequate leadership in the church, we must find it in the pulpit. If we want power in the church we must find it in the pulpit. If we want power in the church we must find it in the pulpit. Both of these are developed in the church schools and college. In Kentucky there are one hundred and fifty-nine Southern Presbyterian churches to be supplied with ministers. At the last report from the Synod U. S. only seventeen candidates for admission were to be found in college and seminary. This means that Kentucky must draw upon the already vitiated forces of sister Synods. We should not expect that we can always secure our ministers from other Synods. A church which does not produce its own leadership is a declining church. Over ninety per cent of the candidates for the ministry comes from Christian college. The same influences which have led so large a proportion of the students of Christian schools to enter the ministry, are influencing many like them into active church service in other fields as well as Christian principle men into other walks of life. The gifts for all Presbyterian churches in the South in 1870 was $10.62 per member, in 1917 it was $17.85, while the per capita wealth in 1870 was $770.00 as against $2,223.00 in 1918. This means that while individual wealth had increased one hundred and eighty-five per cent between those years, the gifts of Presbyterians to their church in the South during the same period had increased only sixty per cent. If the church had increased their gifts in the same proportion as the wealth of the United States increased, we would have given last year in the Southern Presbyterian church $10,992,660. We actually gave $6,516,303. Our fathers in 1870 had a broader vision and were more liberal than we are to-day for what they had. "There is a great need throughout the Synod of Kentucky for an awakening regarding our educational institutions, as is well known to one familiar with the facts, or would be evidenced by a visit to any of the beneficiaries. The actual needs as presented to the Commission by the trustees and om-

TO MEMBERS OF THE SEWING CIRCLE

Dear Ladies: Here are some facts that will make you remember the Fordney-McCumber Profiteers' Tariff bill:

Hooks and eyes, which are so indispensable, are to be increased in cost by about 100 per cent. The present duty under the Democratic Underwood law is 15 per cent ad valorem. The Republican rate is to be 4 1/2 cents a pound, plus 25 per cent. ad valorem. Aren't they to be dear things?

You can't sew on a button hereafter without thinking of the money you are earning—for some one else; a nice big trust. Under the law as it stands there is a tariff rate of 15 per cent ad valorem on the buttons you use. The Republicans have made the tax from 20 to 45 per cent. This means an increase of from 33 1-3 to 200 per cent. "Button, button, who gets the gravy," in case you want a belt buckle hereafter you can get it for 200 per cent, an even 266 2-3 per cent more than you are now paying. The present duty of 15 per cent ad valorem has been increased to 45 and 55 per cent ad valorem.

You will be told that these higher rates are to prevent the flooding of the American markets with an inferior product. Here is the answer from the Tariff Commission: The domestic production of hooks and eyes in 1920 was valued at more than $1,000,000. Imports the same year were $3,401. The annual output of American button factories is above $25,000,000. The imports in 1920 were valued at $27,684.

STORM FATAL TO HANCOCK COLT

Mrs. Louise Viau sustained a heavy loss when the suckling colt by Omar Khayyam, out of Embroidery, by Colt, broke his right hind leg during the severe storm early Sunday morning, and later in the day was destroyed by Dr. E. W. Haggard, at A. B. Hancock's Claiborne Stude, near Paris. This colt was a brother to the chestnut colt for which the Quincy Stable gave $5,000 at the auction at Saratoga, August 4, of the yearlings by Omar Khayyam that A. B. Hancock had purchased from Mrs. Viau.

PLENTY OF COAL PROMISED FOR KENTUCKY

Kentuckians need to have no worry about the supply or the transportation of coal this winter, according to statements made by the miner and operators of the State, the transportation heads of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, and the head of the governor's fuel committee.

The miners and operators signed a working agreement which runs until April, 1923. The railroad company says that within ten days there will be more freight cars on hand than the miners can fill.

NEW WELL DRILLED IN

W. K. Kearney, the well-driller, of Versailles, who has conducted extensive drilling operations for water in this county recently, brought in a fine well last week on the farm of John W. Bell, near Paris. A fine flow of pure limestone water was struck at a depth of only nineteen feet, with a capacity estimated at about sixty gallons a minute. The water is of excellent quality, clear as crystal.

A partial solution of the drouth matter for Bourbon county farmers would be the sinking of artesian or driven wells, which in nearly every case insures a strong and abundant flow of pure water for domestic and drinking purposes.

If you would achieve popularity, son, put the brake on your tongue and be a good listener.

cers, would aggregate several millions. The million dollars sought in the present appeal is to be apportioned as follows: Centre College, Danville, Ky., $200,000; Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky., $300,000; The Kentucky College for Women, Danville, Ky., $200,000; Witherspoon College, Buckhorn, Ky., $50,000; Pikeville College, Pikeville, Ky., $50,000, and $100,000 to be apportioned to Lee's College Institute, Jackson, Ky., Matthew T. Scott, Jr., Academy, Phelps, Ky., Sayre School, at Lexington and the Presbyterian Orphanage at Anchorage.

"Among the needs of these colleges and schools are such buildings as administration, gymnasiums, laboratories, boys' and girls' dormitories, heating and power plants, professors' and teachers' homes, equipped libraries, dining halls, furniture and fixtures and providing foundations, fellowships, scholarships and endowments for many of these needs as well as general operating expenses. These buildings or endowments afford fitting opportunity for memorials or family gifts."

"The Synods of Virginia, North Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Tennessee and Appalachia, have all raised their millions and their sister Synod will match their gifts. The call is for a million dollars for the Presbyterian Educational Movement in Kentucky. Let's give the million."

Sunday School Lesson

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 10

TEACHING THE LAW OF GOD

LESSON TEXT—Neh. 8:1-18.
GOLDEN TEXT—Teach me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes; and I shall keep it unto the end.—Ps. 119:33.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—Deut. 6:4-9; Acts 17:1-9, 10-15; Col. 1:9-11.
PRIMARY TOPIC—The Joy of Learning God's Word.

JUNIOR TOPIC—How a Whole City Heard God's Word.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Power of the Word of God.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Community Bible Study.

It will be of interest and profit to present this lesson as an ideal Sunday school class:

1. A Model Bible Class (vv. 1-6).
1. The Eager Assembly (v. 1). The people gathered themselves together and "spoke unto Ezra to bring the book of the Law." It was not a matter of the teacher urging the class to come together, but the class with yearning hearts requesting the teacher to come with God's Word.

2. The Representative Assembly (v. 2). The class was made up of men, women and children. The men then did not leave the church-going to the women. Neither were the children left at home with nurses or to play on the streets. God's Word should be taught to all classes, men, women and children.

3. An Appreciative Assembly (v. 3). Their ears were attentive from morning to midday. So eager were they to know God's Word that they did not get tired although the lesson lasted for five or six hours. There was no pulling of watches in that class.

4. Due Reverence Shown God's Word (vv. 4, 5). When Ezra opened the Law, all the people stood up. This they did out of respect for the holy book. The reason there is not proper reverence for the Bible is that people are not taught to believe it is God's Word. Reverence in the house of God will only be when the Bible is regarded as God's very words.

5. They Joined Heartily in the Prayer (v. 6). As Ezra led them in prayer the people joined heartily in saying "Amen! Amen!" bowing their faces to the ground.

11. A Model Bible Teacher (vv. 7, 8).
1. He Stood Up Where the People Could See Him (v. 5). The position and bearing of the teacher has much to do with the attention and interest of the class.

2. He Read Distinctly (v. 8). Teachers should take particular heed to this. Much Bible reading is greatly to the discredit of the Word and the reader.
3. Caused the People to Understand the Reading (v. 8). The supreme business of the teacher is to make the Word of God so plain that all, old and young, can understand.

111. The Impressions Made (vv. 9-18).

The effect of teaching God's Word is most important. In this case it was very encouraging.

1. Conviction of Sin (v. 9). The Word of God brings conviction of sin (Acts 2:37). It is quick and powerful (Heb. 4:12). The way to get conviction of sin is by teaching the Word of God, not by appealing to the emotions by telling death-bed stories. The people had real cause for sorrow—they were far from God. They not only had become worldly and the rich were in their greed oppressing the poor, but they were perplexed through their mixed marriages.

2. Weeping Turned Into Joy (vv. 10-12). When sins have been perceived and confessed God would not have His children to be sad. Continued mourning will not atone for the sins that are past. It unfits one for present tasks and dishonors a pardoning God. Besides, joy has a salutary effect upon one's entire being.

3. Shared Their Blessings With Others (vv. 10-12). Christianity is not having a good time alone; it is sharing our prosperity with others. True joy manifests itself in giving to others. Pure religion goes out to minister to the poor (Jas. 1:27).

4. The People Obeyed (vv. 13-18). In their acquaintance with the Scriptures they found that the Feast of Tabernacles had been long neglected. As soon as they understood the Scriptures they went forth to do as they had been told. They went to work and kept this sacred feast in a way that it had not been kept since the days of Joshua (v. 17). If the Scriptures were read and made plain many things could be found which have not been complied with. In the keeping of this feast they dwelt in booths, thus typifying their pilgrim character and bringing to their remembrance the days of their wilderness journey.

The Eyes of Others.
It is the eyes of other people that ruin us. If all but myself were blind, I should neither want a fine house nor fine furniture.—Franklin.

Our Faults.

COULD NOT TURN IN BED

Operation Avoided by Taking
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Dayton, Ohio.—"I had such pains that I had to be turned in bed every time I wished to move. They said an operation was necessary. My mother would keep saying: 'Why don't you take Pinkham's, Henrietta?' and I'd say, 'Oh, mamma, it won't help me, I've tried too much.' One day she said, 'Let me get you one bottle of each kind. You won't be out very much if it don't help you.' I don't know if you will believe me or not, but I only took two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and one of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine when I began to get relief and I am regular ever since without a pain or a headache.

When I lie down I can get up without help and without pain. I can't begin to tell you how I feel and look. I have begun to gain in weight and look more like I ought to. I think every day of ways I have been helped. Any one who does not believe me can write to me and I will tell them what shape I was in. I am ready to do anything I can to help your medicine."

—Mrs. HENRIETTA MILLER, 137 Sprague St., Dayton, Ohio.

THE LABOR DAY CHAMPIONSHIP SHOOT

The annual Bluegrass Championship Shoot was held Monday (Labor Day) by the Hilltop Gun Club on their grounds on the farm of Alfred Clay, near Paris, well-known to hundreds of trap-shooters, throughout the country.

A large crowd of local shooters, besides many from Louisville, Lexington, Covington, Newport, Cincinnati, Winchester, Georgetown, Mt. Sterling, Frankfort and New Albany, Ind., with a large number of visitors from all parts of the Bluegrass region, made up a large attendance. Mr. Clay set the splendid dinner for this shoot, comprising several of his famous old hams, barbecued mutton, chicken salad, potatoes, sliced tomatoes, cheese, crackers, beaten biscuit, hot rolls, pickles, slaw, iced tea, coffee, ice cream and cakes. According to the testimony of those who partook of this most excellent repast, Mr. Clay certainly knows how to handle that end of the business, and made everyone have a good time at the shoot.

Lack of space prevents giving the complete score in detail. The following were winners of the different events on the fine program.

The Blue Grass Championship Trophy, a handsome silver water set, was won by J. C. Bond, of Louisville, with a perfect score of 100, runners-up, A. B. Harris and Alfred Clay, 99 out of 100.

The Challenge Cup Trophy was a tie between A. B. Harris and our own John L. Shropshire, with 99 out of 100 each. After a hot shoot-off A. B. Harris was returned the winner with a score of 25 to 24.

The Distance Handicap was won by A. B. Harris, with a score of 49 out of 50, from 23 yards, runner-up, A. B. Perkins, with 48.

The Boys' Event was won by Henry Hillis with a score of 91 out of 100, runner-up, J. M. Taylor, with 82.

A fine box of cigars, given for the lowest man shooting on the entire program, was won by C. F. Callahan. The two longest runs were made by J. C. Bond, with 136, and Amos Turney, with 124.

ROVIE DAVIS, Secretary.

TWO GOOD PLAYS AT ALAMO AND GRAND

Mary Miles Minter in her latest Realart picture from Famous Players-Lasky distribution, "The Heart Specialist," possesses a dramatic punch seldom equalled upon the screen. It will be seen at the Alamo and Grand to-morrow afternoon and night.

Mary Morison, a prominent magazine writer wrote the story and Frank Urson directed. Allen Forrest is leading man, the remaining members of the supporting cast being Noah Berry, Carmen Phillips, Jack Mathias and James Neill.

"Queen of Sheba," a William Fox super-special which enjoyed a sensational run on Broadway, New York, is booked for the Alamo and Grand Monday and Tuesday, afternoon and night. Betty Blythe appears in the role of the Queen, Fritz Liebert, the noted Shakespearean actor, is King Solomon, and Clair de Lorez is Queen Amarith, wife of Solomon.

RETAILER MAKES 25 CENTS ON $40 SUIT

If the manufacturer and the retailer of men's clothing were to turn their net profits back to the consumer, the cost of a $40 suit of clothes would be no less than $38.88.

All manufacturers could give back to the consumer, if he were in business for philanthropy instead of profit would be sixty cents on a $40 suit. All the retailer could give back would be fifty-two cents.

From figures gathered by the Joint Agricultural Commission in its recent survey to cost of a $40 suit, from the purchase of the cloth to delivery to the consumer, divide up in this manner.

The manufacturer's cost consume $15.36, of which $9.32 goes for wages and factory expenses, and $6.04 goes for selling expenses, freight, taxes, etc.

The expenses of operation in the retail store consume $12.24. This includes such items as rent, labor and the like.

The cost of the cloth which the manufacturer puts in the suit is $7.28, and the cost of trimmings and accessories is $4.

Thus, though the actual materials in a $40 suit amount to only $11.28, labor and service in changing the cloth into a suit and placing it in the hands of the consumer bring the figure up to $38.88.

To compensate him for his risk, brains and energy in the service he adds sixty cents, and the retailer adds fifty-two cents, making the total price $40.

STEADFAST CONFIDENCE

The Following Statement Should Form Conclusive Proof of Merit to Every Paris
Reader.

Could stronger proof of the merit of any remedy be desired than the statements of grateful endorers who say their confidence has been undiminished by lapse of time? These are the kind of statements that are appearing constantly in your local papers for Doan's Kidney Pills. They are twice-told and confirmed, with new enthusiasm. Can any reader doubt the following? It's from a Paris resident:

Philip M. Htler, proprietor meat market, 314 Second street, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills a few times in the past and have been greatly benefited by them. My back was weak and lame and my kidneys acted too frequently, causing me to get up during the night. A box of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Varden & Son's Drug Store gave me fine relief. I certainly think Doan's are a splendid remedy and gladly recommend them to anyone." (Statement given November 9, 1916.)

On November 12, 1920, Mr. Heller said: "I am glad to say the cure Doan's Kidney Pills made for me has been lasting. I gladly confirm my former statement."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Heller had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

I'D LOVE TO BE A FARMER

I'd love to be a farmer
And with the farmers stand,
A horny-handed granger
With a hay-stack in each hand;
For every mail would bring me
From Washington, D. C.,
Some noble speech to tell me
What errors trouble me;
And when the heart was heavy
And I could see no hope
Some college guy would hand me
A slice of expert dope;
And when my days were ended
In Heaven I would hear
Saint Peter whisper to me
These words of hope and cheer;
"Dear Pal, I bid you welcome
Into the realm of rest,
I'll try to treat you kindly
For you're a favored guest;
Go where you will in freedom,
And pack your pain in ice,
I'll see you are not pestered
With any prof's advice;
You need not ever listen
To interest falling due;
And bunkum statesmen never Shall mail a seed to you."

MAN'S FALSE TEETH BLOCK SEWER

What is one-half of a set of false teeth worth?

The city of Birmingham has just completed payments approximating $500 for an upper set, according to Street Commissioner George C. Moore.

For several years the sanitary sewer on Eleventh avenue, south, has been giving the city authorities all kinds of trouble. A former administration went to expense of installing an overflow sewer to remedy the fault. But, even with this the trouble continued.

Finally an excavation was made, the sewer opened, and, holding back a pile of rubbish the workers discovered the upper half of a set of false teeth. The rubbish was cleaned away, the sewer joined back as it was, and no further trouble has been experienced.

NATIONAL TOBACCO MEETING PLANNED BY POOL LEADERS

Tobacco co-operative associations in all parts of the country will be represented by their executives, counsel, secretaries and warehouse directors at a meeting to be held some time this fall, either in Lexington or Louisville, it was announced at the offices of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association at Lexington.

The meeting will be in the nature of a conference to discuss the problems of kindred interest, such as taxes, possible adverse legislation against the tobacco industry, farm conditions over the country, and other items of interest to farmers who also are tobacco growers.

The conference is being planned by President and General Manager James C. Stone, Judge Robert W. Bingham and Aaron Sapiro, general counsel of most of the tobacco co-operatives, who has had a part in the organization of all of them, including the new ones in Wisconsin and Connecticut. The leaders of Burley Association have felt that there are so many matters of mutual interest to all the tobacco producers of the country that such a conference would result in much good to all the interests concerned.

Assistant Chief of the Field Service Division William Collins has returned from West Virginia, where he spoke at a meeting in Barboursville, at which Cabell county, in which Huntington is located, was fully organized, with a county chairman and precinct chairmen who will take up with each grower the question of co-operative marketing and seek to sign all before the new crop is delivered. Heretofore this work of solicitation has been done by Kentucky workers, who have been shifted to points where they are more needed, as soon as it was evident that the growers of West Virginia were interested enough to do this work themselves.

Perhaps He Knew What He Meant.

GIGANTIC DAM PROJECT FOR FALMOUTH

Options were recorded at Falmouth on 142 acres of land bordering the Licking River between Falmouth and McKinnysburg which it is projected to utilize in the establishment of a hydro-electric dam from which to generate vast power of distribution over a radius of 100 miles. The dam, power plant and lands will represent an outlay of $7,000,000, and a railroad to connect with the L. & N. is to be built along the river. The dam, to be constructed between perpendicular walls on the Docia Logan farm, is to be of terraced type, 300 yards long and 100 feet at the crown. Engineers figure on the same power resources as furnished at Niagara Falls. Above the dam the river will be made navigable for 150 miles. Contracts for right of way and lands have been made in the name of J. V. Oldham, of Falmouth, and what is said to be one of the most powerful financial syndicates of the country, is represented by S. A. Tesser, engineer, of Indianapolis.

RENTERS TURN ATTENTION TO FARM LEASE CONTRACTS

Many Kentucky farmers who operate rented land already are studying the problem of leasing contracts for the coming year, according to inquiries being received by the farm economics department of the College of Agriculture. The demand for information of this kind is being met through the distribution of a special publication entitled, "Share Leasing Contracts for Kentucky Farms," which points out that the question of satisfactory leasing contracts is of considerable importance in view of the fact that about one-third of the farmers in the State are either renters or share croppers.

Members of the college farm economics department are urging that farmers in these two classes make early plans to acquaint themselves with lease contracts that will work out profitably both for the landlord and the tenant. Studies made by the department over a period of several years have brought to light rented farms in various parts of the State for which leasing contracts have been worked out that are profitable and satisfactory to all parties concerned. The terms of these contracts together with many other pointers are given in the new publication.

By far the greater number of farm tenants in Kentucky raise tobacco or tobacco and corn on shares, the publication states. Some of the satisfactory conditions for raising tobacco and corn, wheat and hay on shares, together with points on share renting for dairying are outlined. A model share lease that provides for a joint interest in tobacco, corn, hay and hogs, together with tobacco, corn and live stock share lease are contained in the new publication. The two general types of share cropping plans in use in Western Kentucky also are outlined, together with a model lease for farmers in that section of the State. Considerable attention is paid in the new publication to the general form of the share lease and the fundamental points that need consideration when it is made.

Whale Can't Breathe Under Water.

The whale who, because he lives in the water, is often supposed to be a member of the fish family, is in reality no more one than is a human being. He is in reality an animal very much like a cow or a horse, and his flesh is real animal flesh, nothing whatever like that of a fish. And like all other mammals, he cannot remain under water without an occasional trip to the surface.

CLUBWOMEN TO PICK COSTUMES AT STATE FAIR

(By Mabel Jean Melton)

Just where the graceful hip sash, the outstanding feature of autumn modes in afternoon and evening wear should end, and the length of the skirt of a smart tailored suit for morning wear, are some of the problems to be solved by Mrs. G. A. Goodell, President of the Parent-Teacher League of Louisville, and her committee on costumes, for Women's Club Day, September 12, at the Kentucky State Fair, September 11 to 16.

Merchants of Louisville will submit models to these women, who in turn will approve those most representative of good taste as understood by them. What to wear at club meetings, lectures, musicals, and at the theatre, will be suggested by a display of the approved models. These gowns will be featured in exhibition cases throughout the entire week of the fair.

And so we women, to be correctly attired beyond a question of doubt, should gaze upon the official gowns and instruct the home dress maker to follow suggestions acquired from the gazing.

Mothers of the State will no longer bear the brunt of the blame for impossible flapper costumes. For it is safe to predict that the skirts and draperies of the chosen gowns will be neither too long, or in any way ridiculously fashionable.

From the young women comes the question—will these thoughtful women approve ear rings?

Shall young matrons be guilty of bad taste if hoops and pendants of jade sway from their ears? We must wait until the fair to learn the answer. In the meantime the young wives may silently hope that the beauty of the official wax figure gowned in a ravishing evening gown will be increased with pearl, jade or coral ear decorations.

The club women have consented to make selections of suitable costumes, because they realize the importance of good taste in dressing.

The flapper with her short hair and shorter skirts must go, so fashion decrees. But the black gowned "vamp" with trailing draperies must not take her place.

Mrs. Goodell has named the following women as members of her committee: Mrs. William S. Sheridan, representing the Outdoor Art League; Mrs. Bernard Seligman, of the Jewish Women's Federation, and Mrs. A. E. Briderick, from the Business and Professional Women's Club. The fifth member is to be appointed and will be a representative of the Women's Club.

Judging from the interest in the Costume Committee, and its duties, it is quite safe to say that every woman will visit the magnetic spot where these officially chosen gowns will be shown.

Mrs. George H. Newman is General Chairman of Women's Club Day, Tuesday, September 12, as well as for the entire week.

SERVICE

Suppose that your wife had an attack of acute indigestion at five minutes past six, or that the bathroom sprung a leak and threatened to spoil your newly decorated dining room ceiling, or a spark from the furnace started a blaze in the wood bin. A hurry call on the telephone at such critical moments frequently avert irreparable disaster.

Yet in many European countries the telephone is available for use for only a few hours throughout the day. The regular operators, as employees in the Government service, are released from duty at six in the evening, and in many cases no provisions are made to furnish night service.

Thus in Sweden only 4.5 per cent of the total telephone centrals are operated continuously for the use of subscribers. Less than 40 per cent are open more than 12 hours during the day. On Sundays and holidays the availability of the service is even more restricted in certain localities, night service can be secured only by payment of extra charges per call. Rural sections having telephone centrals of less than 50 subscribers can secure night services before 7 a. m. and after 9 p. m. if they agree to defray the total costs of such service. In many cases where the local exchange is closed, arrangements can be made to connect the subscriber's instrument to the nearest central office, having night service, provided he pays an extra charge by the day, month, or year, depending on the length of time desired.

Maybe that hill is not there, after all—

VERY often the hill we seem to be climbing is made out of the common mistakes of diet which starve tissues and nerves and slow down energies.

How smooth and level the path seemed to be when we were younger.

Simple, natural food may level that hill to a smooth path again.

Why not try it?

Begin today with a dish of Grape-Nuts with cream or milk—and fresh or preserved fruit added if you like.

Keep on with this crisp, delicious, strengthening food in place of heavy, ill-assorted, starchy breakfasts and lunches—and see if the old-time zest and speed on the old-time level path doesn't come back again.
